

Arconic Decarbonization Roadmap

This roadmap is for illustrative purposes only and outlines our view of strategic initiatives that enable the reduction of our greenhouse gas emission intensity based on current assumptions, market conditions and regulatory environment. As we work towards implementing these initiatives, we recognize that feasibility, percentages and timeline may be impacted by unforeseen uncertainties and evolving business factors such as supply/demand dynamics, policy & administration changes, technology development and maturity, consumer dynamics, etc. As such, this roadmap should be considered a dynamic guide subject to continuous adjustment as new information emerge.
